

Why Can't My Child Behave?

Table of Contents

PART ONE

TELL ME ABOUT YOUR CHILD	4
Looking for answers	5
The ages and stages of ADD/ADHD	10
Can a diet help your child's behavior?	14
What is the Feingold Program?	16
Symptoms often helped	19
Questions parents ask	21
The first four days of Feingold	27
Feingold – the next generation	32
How can I gain my child's cooperation?	41
How do I actually begin the Program?	46
Stage One – keeping a diet diary	55

PART TWO

ADDITIVES: What are all those funny things in food?	56
Food coloring	57
The bug killer in the medicine cabinet	62
Flavorings	64
The troublesome antioxidants	67
Five "little" food additives to consider	69
What is corn syrup?	70
MSG and the Feingold Program	70
MSG and aspartame	74
Sodium Benzoate	79
Other additives	80
Caffeine – more than just "coffee nerves"	82
SALICYLATES	84
FOOD, FROM BREAD TO WINE
Breads and bakery products	92
Candy	94
Canned foods	96
Cereal – snap, crackle, and ... BHT?	97
Cheese	98
Coffee	98
Donuts	99
Fats & oils	99
Something's fishy	100
Flour	100
Milk – looking for lowfat	101
Picnic time, pickle time	101
Rice	102
Soft drinks	102
Sugars	103
Tea	107
A sour story about vinegar	107
Wine	108

PART THREE

COPING SKILLS

“I used to hate cooking”	110
Low cholesterol diets	115
Stress has many forms – cheating	116
When Dad won’t cooperate	124
Grandparents – big help or big problem	125
Parenting the Feingold teen	130
Finding a doctor	138
Emergency! Hospitalization	142
First aid help to have on hand	146
Visit the dentist but avoid the additives	146

SEASONS AND HOLIDAYS

Valentine’s day	148
Enjoy a Feingold Easter	149
Suddenly it’s summertime	150
Happy Halloween	154
Thanksgiving	157

YOUR CHILD IN SCHOOL

The sick school syndrome	179
“That kid who drives you crazy”	183
How I saved Fairfax County $62,296.00	185
Better nutrition brings up test scores	187
Edward and the KISS plan	187

SOCIAL SKILLS

Creating social skills problems	190
Asperger’s syndrome	193

WHAT IS “ADD” AND HOW CAN IT BE TREATED?

How foods and additives affect the brain	195
EEG and foods/additives	200
ADD abroad	201
Parents under pressure	204
Better ways to help ADD children	209
Ritalin, Prozac	215
NIH panel finds inconsistencies	216
A review of the studies on stimulant medicine	224

ON THE PROGRAM AWAY FROM HOME

Steering clear of additives in your church or synagogue	227
Going to camp	231
Vacation time with restaurant food	234
The Feingold traveler abroad	242
Thinking about college	248

BABIES AND ADULTS

Predisposing babies to hyperactivity	250
“Hyperactive” adults	261

NON-FOODS

Carpeting	271
Cosmetics	272
Paint	276

Perfume – what is this stuff?	277
OTHER PROBLEMS FROM FOOD ADDITIVES AND SALICYLATES
Childhood arthritis	282
Asthma	284
Autism – the invisible prison	289
Bedwetting	307
Depression and other disorders	310
Developmental delays	320
Sensory integration therapy	320
Ear infections	324
Eye muscle disorder	327
Hives – the start of the Feingold Program	328
Nasal polyps	331
Seizure disorder – does diet play a role?	332
A good night’s sleep	335
What is Tourette syndrome?	340
FOOD ALLERGIES	344
PART FOUR
THE COST TO SOCIETY
The Kellogg Report	349
Schools in crisis	351